Quotes for Today

Core values go beyond our behaviors and our wants.
Without being intentional about our values, we live backwards.
We often let our behaviors define our values.
Values should define our behaviors. - John G. Blumberg

We all seek purpose in life. Most of us wonder how we can make a positive difference during our brief time on earth. But asking and doing are different things. - Mac Anderson

From the Pastor

Odds & Ends in April

In terms of time, we are half way through the eight weeks to receive the Mount Hermon Mission Offering. But giving-wise we aren't half way to the goal yet. I hope everyone will be inspired to contribute generously, knowing that real missions will happen across so many areas of the world, and locally, because we support the MHMO.

When planning a visitation time in connection with a funeral service for a member of MHBC, keep in mind the good option of having the visitation at the church. There are many advantages to scheduling visitation at Mount Hermon rather than a funeral home. There is a large, versatile meeting area, and plenty of parking. The location is much more convenient for most of our families, and it is a more private event, with a relaxed atmosphere. Just a thought to consider should the need arise.

This Sunday, we move into Holy Week. Palm Sunday gets us ready to welcome Jesus with excitement. On Maundy Thursday we ponder Christ's sacrificial acts of love and His willingness to take our sins upon Himself. Easter Sunday is cause for highest celebration and praise! So be part of every element of worship this season affords.

Yours in Christ,

Lee
