Quotes for Today

Whatever your present situation, I assure you that you are not your habits. You can replace old patterns of self-defeating behavior with new patterns, new habits of effectiveness, happiness, and trust-based relationships. - Stephen Covey

I studied the lives of great men and famous women, and I found that the men and women who got to the top were those who did the jobs they had in hand, with everything they had of energy and enthusiasm. - Henry Truman

From the Pastor

Today

Funny, isn't it? – By the end of today, someone will say, “This was one of the best days of my life,” while another person will be groaning, “Today was miserable and I am glad it is over.” Same date, same day, just different circumstances. One person experienced pleasures and blessings, while the other only encountered frustrations, offenses, setbacks, and pain. And the day after that might find those circumstances exactly reversed.

Funny, too, how God in His inestimable awareness knows exactly how we feel about any given day. Yet, where we may be bummed out, He knows we are being set up for some great blessing. When we may feel on top of the world, He sees us on the tip of disaster. Only the Almighty accurately assesses the day at hand. You and I are left to move through it by... faith.

We think we know what today will bring, but we don't. We make plans, hold expectations, and anticipate results. Each of these is an act of faith. Perhaps it's best to approach today in a Jesus-way: try not to be blessed as much as to be a blessing. The bottom line is that we can always say... “This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it.” - Psalm 118:24

Yours in Him,

Lee
